This Should Interest You

The right of way for the State and Federal road through the county must be 40 feet wide. Counting it this wide we find one mile of right-of-way occupies about 5 acres of land.

If the county must pay for all this right-of-way as high as for what they got from H. L. Borders last week, it will sure go broke in a little while.

The proof in this case while on trial at Stanton last week, showed that the fence had been set in the road in recent years and that at least half of what was paid for was the county's already. So the county really got but one fortieth of an acre for which it must pay $140 or $5,600 per acre, or $28,000 per mile, which consumes approximately 5 acres.

There are thirty miles of road through the county, and if all should cost so dearly, the total cost of right-of-way would be $840,000. This is more than the total assessment of all the land and town lots in Powell county two years ago.

And yet many of the very men who make such allowances wonder what goes with their tax money paid into the county treasury.

We live in a very funny world of people anyway.

Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving passed off very quietly in this county. All the sportsmen spent the day in the fields after game while court held on at Stanton. Judge Benton observing so many right of way suits against the county, very fittingly said: those people who were attending court there and forcing all concerned to desecrate the day, should be at home having given the right-of-way and giving thanks that their county is trying to build some roads.

Be Cautious With Matches

At Cadiz, Ky., a negro boy dropped a lighted match where coal oil had been spilled on the ground. The flames leaped to a building near by which spread and caused a $250,000 fire. A similar occurrence is liable to cause a fire in Clay City by dropping matches in some of our board walks. At any rate it is best to throw lighted matches into the street as we do not want a fire in Clay City.

Berry Files Exceptions

B. Frank Berry, of West Bend, has filed exceptions to the Commissioner's allowance of twenty dollars for a gravel bar in Brush creek to be used in surfacing the new road. There is about five hundred yards of the gravel taken. This case will be tried before Judge Daniel at Stanton Monday.

Town Board to Meet Friday Night

The City Board will meet in regular session Friday night to attend the regular routine of business.

Shale Men Still Here

The shale men while still with us, operate very quietly. One company has done considerable grade work on the Powell place across the river. They all seem to be nice people, pay cash for what they buy, and all confident that one or more plants will be put in operation near Clay City soon. Here's hoping they succeed, for if there is anything in the county that has an unlimited supply it is shale.

We hear another option has been taken by a new concern on another large boundary near the city. We can only wait and see what we see.

Prices Coming Down

The farmer is hit in many ways. Not only on account of decline in prices of his products, but also because of a continuation of too high prices in what he has to buy. Cattle are down one-half from a year ago; coal is 50 per cent higher.

Beef hides are down two-thirds from last year, but shoes are off only one-fourth.

Corn is down one-half but sugar is as high as one year ago and has been three times as high as now during the year, and so on and so on.

To Look After Lumber

Judge Johnson has been engaged by the Page Log & Lumber Company, Lexington, to look after their lumber stacked on the railroad tracks in this city. Any one wanting any of this lumber should see Mr. Johnson, who in turn will get a man to measure it to you.

Big Sale of Real Estate

There will be a big sale of real estate in Clay City, December 18, as per the advertisement in these columns this week. The Commissioner's Sale of all the realty of the late W. R. Cassidy will be held on the premises on that date. Read the advertisement in this issue and prepare to pick up something of value in the good old town of Clay City.

Low Level in Prices

Hogs dropped last week to the low level of ten cents per pound in market. This drop in porkers, while keenly felt by the farmers, is not so noticeable to the consumers who do not yet see a corresponding decline in price.

The Bank Statement

The Clay City National Bank has another one of their fine statements in this issue of The Times. It is always a pleasure and satisfaction to read these statements as they show strength and reliability.

Automobiling Slackening.

The continued wet weather and mucky roads make automobiling not quite so desirable. The gravel road is still all right so far as it goes but it does not quite reach the pike at Lulburg.

Court Will Make or Stop Road

Over $2,000,000 now would be due the Kentucky State road fund from warehousemen for whisky sold since the 50-cent withdrawal tax went into operation.

Reported to State Auditor John J. Craig were 3,959,071 gallons up to November 1. This additional 50 cents is being charged purchasers of the whisky and will be paid the state if it wins the suit in the United States Supreme Court. If the State loses, those who had it in storage and are selling it, will be 50 cents the gallon better off.

This case will be argued in January. If the State loses, a special road bond issue will be seriously considered, but not until then.

Married His Mother-in-Law

Walter Thornton at Paducah is being tried in the courts upon the charge of marrying his mother-in-law. At the same time his divorced wife, now his step daughter, is contending for the possession of their daughter. Thornton claims that when he divorced his wife to marry her mother, her mother-in-law ship ceased.

Campaign Expenses

As per requirements of the law, the Democratic State Campaign Chairman has filed the post campaign expense bill. The total amount expended was $43,000.00. Of this amount Judge Robt. W. Bingham, publisher of the Courier-Journal was the largest contributor. He gave $10,000.00. This obligates every Democrat in the state, who can, to take the Courier-Journal.

Sportsmen Violate the Law

The law provides that hunters may kill as many as twelve birds in one day. With equal force it provides that no one shall kill more than twelve birds a day. We have a friend who fired into a flock of fourteen birds on the wing, with no intention of violating the law, but he did, for when he picked them up he found he had killed thirteen of them.

More Tax on Dogs Than Coal

Good authority tells us any of the rich coal producing counties pay more tax on dogs than coal. The present profits on coal mined is two dollars per ton. A proposed tax of ten cents per ton is objected to by the operators.

Christmas Coming On

It is only twenty-three days until Christmas, thus it is timely to say "Do your shopping early." This will apply equally as well to the newspaper business as all others. The Times is only one dollar per year.

Child Ill of Pneumonia

Carl, the twelve-year-old son of Francis Charles, two miles south of the city, is confined to his bed with an attack of pneumonia.

Red Cross Enthusiasm Wanes

The Red Cross enthusiasm has waned in Powell county until you never hear it mentioned. This organization has recently had a big drive for membership in the cities, but in this county the Red Cross seems to have passed with the war.

Three cars of coal have been received and delivered in Clay City this week.

Mr. Victor Stephens and Miss Sallie Creacy surprised their friends by going to Winchester via Beattyville Friday and getting married. They were accompanied by the groom's sister, Miss Dexter Stephens. Both are teachers in the Stanton graded school and very popular.

Much Wet Weather

The continued wet weather has hampered corn shucking for several days. Also hog killing has slackened. But live stock are getting some picking yet and tobacco stripping may progress. There has been but little tobacco raised in Powell this year.

Holmes Recovering

Anderson Holmes, who underwent an operation at a Lexington hospital two weeks ago for appendicitis, is doing very well, though he is unable to sit up.

A Little Education

Some of our leading colleges are having a heap of football, considerable boxing, some baseball and a little education.

That Extra Legislative Session

There is considerable discussion all over the state pro and con as to the calling of a special session of the Legislature to provide a fund to build good roads in the state next year. The last session of that august body thought a necessary measure had been enacted when it passed a bill imposing a heavy tax on liquor as it was to have been drawn from the ware houses. The courts have annulled that law, so this leaves the state with the automobile license as the only source for raising money to hold up its end of the road building plan of the state.

Many of those who favor an extra session of the Legislature also favor a tonnage tax on coal like the production tax on oil.

The Times favors this system of taxation, but we do not favor an extra session of the Legislature. The Times favors a farm production tax instead of the old unequal system now in vogue. It also opposes any increase in property tax until a better system of spending the money is devised. We need roads, but we need worse a better and cheaper plan to build them. The same money now spent for roads will build 100 per cent more roads when labor and material get cheaper which is sure to come in a few more months.

Bringing it up to date, perhaps we should sign it "Old King Coal Is a Costly Old Soul."

SPOUT SPRING

Lisle Fox, of Winchester, was here one day last week with B. S. Burgher.

James Harrison sold a load of corn to Franklin Margison at $1.50 per barrel delivered.

The Rev. W. L. Byrd came up Monday from Winchester to review his farming interests here.

Mrs. Belle Burgher sold on the Winchester court market four nice yearling heifers for $135.00.

Mrs. Russell Christopher is in very bad health and will go to Lexington soon to consult a specialist.

Mrs. John Ballard, of Winchester, is here with her sister, Mrs. Hethy McKinney, who continues at a low stage.

Charlie VanCleve, who is attending the State Normal at Richmond, spent Thanksgiving with home folks.

Oliver Burgher left Sunday for Fayette county where he will assist his uncle, B. F. McKinney, harvest a bumper corn crop.

"Briz" Stone has sold out here and moved to Flemingsburg and is running a boarding house for the Page Log & Lumber Company.

Francis Charles has purchased of Geo. S. Ware one-half interest in the Howard place which Mr. Ware purchased last spring from the Rev. W. L. Byrd.

A. C. Barnes, of Iron Mountain, who recently sold his farm there, has purchased the dwelling and part of the land "Briz" Stone bought of Shelt McKinney last spring, and will move there. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes are the best of citizens whom we gladly welcome into our community.

It's no trouble at all to earn a hundred per cent on an investment in this town. Just bite off a subscription to this sheet and the job is done.

Get More Butter

Mrs. Hattie Meece of Glenn, Missouri, says: "I was not making enough butter from my cow's milk production for a family of two. After using Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders a short time, she gave a half gallon more milk a day, and a pound of butter a day."

Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders give to milk cows just what is needed to keep the digestive organs in proper condition, so that they get the most possible good from their feed. Give equally wonderful results when used for horses, hogs, and sheep, because they are a tonic, appetizer and worm expeller.

It matters not what ailment you may have among your stock or poultry, it will pay you to get the proper Dr. LeGear Remedy from your dealer. They are the Doctor's personal prescriptions, compounded during his 28 years of Veterinary Practice and Expert Poultry Breeding. They must satisfy you, or your dealer will refund your money.

It may be true that the profiteers will not get what's coming to them, but they already have got what's coming to us.

The man who loafs during the years when he ought to be working for a competence needn't be worrying about the future.

Harrison, county agent, Millard Hall and Miss Grace White were visitors. Ye scribe failed to get all the names and programme, but we learned that our teachers, Profs. Smith and Wells were absent but wrote welcome on the blackboard.

Poor old Slade seems to be the only political writer to the Times. Bald Rock, you have surely not been back long from your trip around the world, or else you failed to read the daily news. It was neither women nor yanks that won this election, but money, judging from the expense account. But they won just the same. We will take note of your prophesy. We predict there will be a landslide, just the opposite, in four years. It will take a Solomon to satisfy the people and reconstruct the United States, and Harding may be a Solomon but he doesn't look it, and his party didn't think so before nominated but he is a runner alright, and if he makes better times for poor people, puts more money into circulation and keeps us out of war he may be elected the third term.

Protect The Trees

Rabbits will soon begin their destruction of young fruit trees, it thus behooves those having such trees to see that they are well wrapped. Corn stalks tied around them is about the best protection, though paper or rags tied around them will do equally as well, and in some instances are more convenient. Whatever protection is furnished, it should be taken from around the trees next spring when the growing season sets in.

A Lamentable Waste

The farmers of Powell county a few weeks ago had hundreds of bushels of winter apples going to waste for the want of a market. There will soon be a home market, and apples will be shipped here for sale. This should not be the case.

Let's Go!

Now that the election is over and the excitement and uncertainty incident to it passed, it is time for us to once more take up the shovel, the trowel, the pen or whatever tool is necessary to our work and commence where we left off.

The reconstruction period has been with us for nearly two years and little has been accomplished toward stabilizing business. We must work—Work—WORK.

We must put more work into every hour and more hours into every day to serve as an example to other workmen and the remainder of the world.

Let us do our utmost to make progress and increase production. We must work with not only our muscles and brains but put our hearts into the task to speeding the world on the road to permanent prosperity.

The world needs more of everything. It looks toward us to produce.

Production alone will cut down the cost of living. Production means work, an honest day's work for the farmer, the laborer, the mechanic, the carpenter, the printer, the office man, the stenographer, the office boy.

The price of prosperity is work. The price of contentment is work. Good, faithful service for good pay is the salvation of America and of the world.

We are always behind on production. Prices have soared. The old law of supply and demand always works. It is grinding away. Increase the supply by work and prices will come within reach.

—We have had entirely too much labor agitation and shillyshally, parley, delay, linger, wait and hope while the world starves.

The American workmen have been blind to the cause of the high cost of living and have been endeavoring, too long, to boost themselves up by their bootstraps, in an attempt to over-top the high prices.

Every disturbance, every hour of lay-off, costs them more than their higher wages.

Will they persist in their frenzied "dog chase-its-tail-methods" until the dissension and unrest spreads to the farms and proved instrumental in the farm hand demanding a forty-four hour week and thus boost prices another notch?

Will Americans let a few foreign born, long haired, red-eyed radicals whip them into a tempest of discord, that will wreck their lives and opportunities?

No, a thousand times, no! We have faith in the American spirit.

Give prosperity a fair chance. Do all you can, and then do more for the next year, two years, three years—get into the habit of doing more each year—WORK—WORK—WORK—D. & W. Chats.

EVER BILIOUS?

Charleston, Miss.—Mrs. R. V. Heins, of this place, says: "I have never had to use very much medicine, because if I felt headache, dizziness, or colds, bad taste in the mouth, which comes from torpid liver, I would take a dose or more of Black-Draught, and it would straighten me out and make me feel as good as new. We have used in our family for years and it certainly is the best liver medicine I ever saw. It has not only saved me money, it has helped keep my system in shape, and has never weakened me as so many physics do. I recommend it to my friends and am glad to do so." Black-Draught is the old, reliable liver medicine which you have doubtless heard much about. When you feel badly all over, stomach not right, bad taste in your mouth, bilious, or have a headache, try Thedford's Black-Draught. At all Druggists.

THEDFORD'S

Mistakes

When a plumber makes a mistake, he charges twice for it.

When a lawyer makes a mistake, it is just what he wanted, because he has a chance to try the case all over again.

When a carpenter makes a mistake, it's just what he expected.

When a doctor makes a mistake, he hurries it.

When a judge makes a mistake, it becomes the law of the land.

When a preacher makes a mistake, nobody knows the difference.

When an electrician makes a mistake, he blames it on induction; nobody knows what that means.

But when an editor makes a mistake—Good Night! ! !

Look to the Care of Your Battery

During the winter months when many machines in this county are laid up on account of bad roads, the starting batteries are allowed to go to ruin, owing to lack of attention. We know how to take them through the winter and keep them from freezing and the plates from sulphating.

When you get ready to house your machine for the winter, if it is not stored with us, send your battery to us and we will deliver it to you in the spring in good starting condition.
